THE MATCH A DRAW.

Peckham and McConnell Fought Ten Rounds Without Getting a Decision.
A fair crowd witnessed the ten-round contest between Hite Peckham, of Washington, D. C., and Ed McConneil, champion of Delaware, at and Ed McConneil. Champion of Delaware, at Henry's theatro, Alexandria, last evening. The result was a draw after a hard ten-round go. The evening's contest opened with a burlesque contest of four rounds between Tay and Sims, in which Sims was declared the winner. The second preliminary event was between two colored heavyweights, Carrington and Johnston, in which so little science was displayed on either side that the referce decided it a draw draw.

Then came the event of the evening between Peckham and McConnell. Both men showed up in very poor form. Feckham chaiming he had been slek for two days. Mr. Duffy was referee and Joe Bateman acted as timekeeper. The fight by rounds was as follows.

First.—Both men were sparring, trying to find each other's weak points. Peckham was doing most of the leading. Honors easy at the end of the round.

SECOND—Peckham still led, and landed some eavy blows on McConnell's body. Mac seemed to more distressed of the two.
THERD—Peckham handed again on Mac, but ever phased the latter. Mac gave Peckham some hard blows in a flerce exchange. FOURTH—Mac lands several blows on Peck-ham's chest, which were returned with interest, ham's chest, which were retarned with interest, and in the finish of this round Peckham upercuts like heavily on the face.

Figure-Peckham the classes of it, when his wind went tack on him and he was obliged to spar for lime. First blood was awarded in Peckham.

Sixus-This round was the best of the fight, in which some of the barer of the fight, in which some of the face at the first blood was another round, in which Peckham again showed his cleverness by keeping out of harm s way. Mae got Peckham head in chancery and inneed on the bead and head headen expending for Mae's wind.

Entitle Peckham kept playing for Mae's wind.

Entitle Steal third and was cangle three left on buses. Why, he really didn't get a run of the bit. But by such efforts as these some youngsters become great base runners, and Selbach is a player that is willing to learn.

In the fourth three men were left on buses—

Mercer, Ward, and Hassamer, the two interest on balls. Abbey was unable to bring them home, although he had already made two safe his.

One run was made in the seventh on singles by Hassamer and Maguire, Selbach, and Teleau went to bases on balls. Cartwright hit a high fly to short left field which Shindle enpured. Maguire touched his base and reached home, but Teleau, who had ran beyond second, cut the dianond to get back to first to save a doubtle play, but the umpire decided him out for running out of line.

BROOKLYN BY GOOD LUCK.

The Bridegrooms Won the First of the Series Yesterday Afternoon. Because of Brooklyns luck and the stupidity of the Washingtons the representatives from the City of Churches won the game yesterday at National Park. There have been many stupid plays within the past three weeks by the home team, but yesterday's exhibition excelled anything this season. Even somnambulist has more life than Ward, Radford, and Hassamer displayed vesterday. Ward's efforts at ball playing were so ridioulous that not a few fans hissed him. The loss of the game was virtually due to the listless and indifferent play of the above trio. Ward is getting to be a regular record player, and the sooner this is broken up the better. Fortunately only a small crowd was disgusted.

Mercer started to pitch, and his work was good, but he got no support. He lasted four innings and was hit for eight hits. One-half of that number could have been fielded if the proper effort had been displayed, but, alas, the Senutors must have been dealing in glue, as they seemed stuck to the ground. The action of Ward and Hassamer was similar to New Land when he is having tron. The action of Ward and Hassamer was similar to Ekra Kendall when he is baving trouble with the fly paper. If such a thing was possible, it would be an excellent idea to employ an injector to put ginger in the listless players. Some men snow more life when they fail to receive a full month's salary. Manager Schmeiz will win many praises if he forces his men to do feeter work. The country is full of good reliable players, whose action on the diamond indicate that they want to rise up. There should be no more sleeping.

So much for complaint. Now for the game, So much for complaint. Now for the game, and the many readers of The Trins who were not present will know just how the game was won by Brooklyn. Ward made a clean hit on the first bail that young Stein pitched. He was out at second from Corcoran to Daly on Hassamer's ground bail. Abbey's two-bagger put "Boaring Bill" on third. The latter scored on an out at first after Maguire was hit by the pitcher, and Abbey crossed the plate on Fonty's error. Maguire also tried to reach home on the play, but Dailey had the ball. Cartwright opened the second with a two-bagger down the left-field foul line. He went to third on a put out, and could easily have bagger down the left-field four line. He went to third on a put out, and could easily have scored on a passed ball but Hassamer, who was coaching, had fallen into a trance and did not see where the ball went. He, how-ever, scored on Mercer's slow ball to Daly, Mercer going out on a very close decision. Ward reached first on balls, stole second, and reached third, while Hassamer went to first on balls. Ward tried to score on the throwto on balls. Ward tried to score on the throwto eatch Hassamer, but went out by Corcoran to Dailey.

Another run was scored in the third. Abbey singled, stole second, coming home on Sel-bach's hit for two bases. The latter foolishly tried to stear third and was caught three feet

After Coreoran had struck out in the third, After Coreoran mas strate out in the third, Tredway won first on balls and stole second, and on Magnire making a wild throw to the base he went to third. He came home on Griffin's single, the latter stealing second, coming home on Shindle's safe hit. A sharp double play by Radford, Wari and Cart-wright after Burns had reached first on balls retired the side.

JUDGES HAD PLENTY TO DO

Island Track Officials Were Kept Going All the Time Yesterday.

KEY WEST WAS DISQUALIFIED

After Winning the Alexander Island Subur ban Mike Daly's Horse Was Placed Last for an Alleged Foul-Daly Protested and

There were several things out of the common to occur at the Island track yesterday afternoon. The principal feature was the disqualification of Key West, the winner of called the Alexander Island suburban, for the alleged fouling of Sweet Alice. The latter swerved across the track at the head of the stretch and the rider of Sweet Alice claimed a foul, which was promptly allowed, and Sweet Alice given the race. When Mike Daly heard of this action he made a vigorous kick to the judges, and the latter fined Key West's owner $100 for his back talk.

Mr. Daly claimed his horse bad not interfered with the chances of any other horse, and in this statement Horse-owners Flippen and Miller corroborated him. The latter two were up at the spot where the alleged foul oc-curred, and said Key West was clear of his field when he swerved, and that Jockey Moore de-liberately puiled Sweet Alice over to the out-side and followed in behind Key West. The latter won easily at the end, and the many who had a bet down on Daily's horse felt and said pretty bad things about the disqualifica-tion.

Another unusual event was the decision of and directly afterward the officials issued and directly afterward the officials issued their order. The reason given was the alleged in and out running of the horses from Gray's stable. With respect to the performance of Samaritan, the horse started five times. The first time be finished seventh in a field of eight: the next, sixth in a field of seven; the next, fourth in a field of six with a had for the hind him.

One more of the common occurrences was the overlooking of Vocalite in the finish of the fourth race. The mare came up on the outside and finished bang up with Successor, apparently getting the place by a head from side and finished bang up with Successor, apparently getting the place by a head from the latter, with Florist a full length away. The judges pinced Successor second and Florist third, while those who watched the finish scrutched their heads and wondered what had become of Vocalite. The judges afterwards explained Vocalite had finished footh.

The starting was good, despite the fact that Luray and Bobby Calnan were left at the post. Samaritan won the first race by a head; Key West finished a length and a half to the good in the second; Keime captured the third rather handily by a head, while Rebecca fin-ished first in the fourth, and Cossack walked home the winner of the closing event. Dr. Helmuth pulled up lame in the opening event.

Jockeys Moore and Murphy were fined $10 for unruly behavior at the post in the second face.

The track officials yesterday allowed a representative of the press to witness the start of the races run out of the chute. G. C. Gray was notified yesterday no more untries would be received from his stable because of the alleged in and out running of his lorses.

Carter Hall, owner of Sweet Alice, said he would rather have had Key West's owner given the purse than had so much excitement over Key West's disqualification.

The judges evidently overlooked Vocalite at the finish of the fourth race, as both Successor and Florist were placed ahead of the mare. Vocalite reality flyshed second by a head before Successor.

Debutante Stakes at Morris Park Taken by

New York June 18 .- There was considerable excitement to-day in the betting ring at Morris Park in the Debutante stakes, for the calculations of the talent were upset by three added horses. One of them was J. E. Mc-Donald's Luiu filly, who was not of much account in her last race. The owner and his Donaid's Luin filly, who was not of much account in her last race. The owner and his friends flooded the ring with money, knocking the price down from 10 to 1 at the opening to 8 to 5 at the close. Much had been expected of 8weden, who was a highly tried yearling, and she had a good deal of backing. They went away to a good start after a long delay at the post, and the Luiu filly took the lead, winning easily.

In the Long Island light-weight handleap none but Herald tried the issue with Comanche, and the latter fought hard for his head all the way to the finish. He did not stop at the wire, but was sent on for the suburban distance, which he ran in 2:10 flat.

Wah Jim was asked to do too much in the first race, and with 135 pounds on his back could do no better than third. Armitage won very easily, with Trevelyan in the second place. Peter the Great was the favorite in the second race, with Ornus and Beldemere about equally fancied for the place. Lollie Eastin was an odds on favorite in the fifth race, but she ran poorly and did not finish in the first three. The winner turned up in Havoc, who opened at 50 to 1 and closed at 10 to 1, while Dalabra pulled off the place money at the comfortable place odds of 8 to 1, quietty backed by his owner.

In the last race Big Min fell just after the start and broke his neck. The jockey was uninjured. Summarles:

BOB'S CHANCE CUT SHORT

Police Interfered in the Pitzsimmons-Choynski Fight.

He Would Have Finished Joe with Another Punch-Howling Crowds Enjoyed the Battle-Boston Never Before Saw Its Like.

Condition of the Men Was Flawless.

THE MATCH DECLARED A DRAW

night Bob Fitzsimmons, champion middleweight of the world and challenger of Jim Corbett. the police not interfered it was ten to one that he would have finished Joe Choynski in another

As it was, the match was declared a draw, but is a foeman worthy to combat with the lanky ing men enjoyed the battle, the like of which Choyn ski was the first to appear, and in his wake came a retinue of handlers and seconds, including Ned McAvoy and Parson Davies. Fitzsimmons followed shortly after, attended by his protege. Young Bandler. The Australian looked a trifle heavier than his opponent, and his condition seemed fi wises. Then Dan Murphy sounded the gong and the fight commenced. First—Both men sprang nimbly to the center and, circling, waited an opening. Fitzsimmons was the first to lead, missing with a left-hand swing by Choysak's mick fucking. The Australian control of the con was the first to lead, missing with a left-hand swing by Choyiski's quick locking. The Australian again led, landing his left lightly on Choynski's chin and receiving an easy tap on the stomach in return. Honors were even when the round closed.

Thus Fitz was the first to reach the center of the ring, and as Choynski neared him he feinted and let go a victous left-hander. Joe side-stepped him and quick as a flash shot out of the ring, and as Choynsai heared him he feinted and let go a vicious left-hander. Joe side-stepped him and quick as a flash shot out his left. It handed full on the point of the foreigner's law and Fitzsimmons measured his length on the floor. The audience sprang to their feet as one man, but smid the din and hullabeleo, Fitzsimmons heard Daly count off the seconds until hime were reached when he staggered up to his feet grougy, but full of cuming. Joe was after him red hot, and time and again did be land his left and right, though at every chance Fitzsimmons cliniched Joe's neck. Daly broke them apait time and again. Choynski was tiring himself out, while the Australian was rapidly recovering himself, and hardly a minute after the knock-down he seemed stronger than the Californian. The jound came to a close with both men just staggering around, each trying hard to get in a final blow, which seemed about all that was needed to finish either one.

CHOYNSKI WAS LEG-WEARY.

FOURTH—Fire's wonderful recuperative power had asserted itself. While Choynski was leg-weary and slow in answering the time, the Australian made for Choynski at once, and while Joe was endeavoring to place a left that would amount to something. Fire hit him two on the face and jaw, fleering him, and when he arose repeating the dose. Twice more did Fire floor him, but each time the Californian staggered to his feet. The battle was finally getting gory, and Capt. Warren, followed by a squad of officers, entered the ring and told Daly that the mill must stop if the spectators did not cease their yelling. This ended the round, which was about thirty seconds short.

Firm—Fitz started to finish Choynski, and made a terrific swing for Choynskis jaw with his left. It was a trifle high, but struck the Californian on the ear, felling him. He struggled to his feet, but a push from Fitzsimmons sent him sprawling in the corner, clinging to the ropes. He pulled himself up and clinched the antipedean. Daly parted them and Fitz again landed his left on Joe s jaw, flooring him for the last time. As he essayed to rise Capt. Warren again made his appearance and this time said that under no conditions would be allow the fight to continue.

According to the articles, which read that if both men were on their feet and willing to go on at the finish of the stipulated eight rounds, it should be declared a draw, there was but one decision for Paly to make, and the fight to charge a draw, there was but one decision for Paly to make, and the fight was declared a draw.

clared a draw. She Is Better Off Without Him. Samuel C. Randall, engineer of the Treasury Department, with a salary of $1,400, nine days Department, with a sainty of 64,000, hine days ago pocketed a few dothers and skipped town without leaving any notice of where he intended to go. He left a devoted wife and two children. Some days afterward a note was received stating that he had gone to Binedelds. Nicaragua, but there is little faith placed in this statement. When Chief Clork Logan Carliste learned of the matter, he at once formally discharged Randall and appointed his wife to a lucrative position.
